

Hickey Smith is a law firm purposely designed to deliver legal services with significantly greater efficiency, consistency, transparency and insight for our clients. For years, sophisticated purchasers of legal services have lamented the fact that law firms have been slow to adopt technologies and best practices that drive efficiency. We listened. We responded.

By deconstructing and refining traditional legal processes, applying workflow technology, and collecting and analyzing data, Hickey Smith is transforming the way legal services are delivered today. With our unrivaled combination of disciplined processes, technology expertise, and business leadership, Hickey Smith delivers:

Reduced total legal spend

Improved quality

Enhanced transparency

Actionable insight

Simplified management of outside counsel

Increased control

Technology-driven practice

onPoint, our proprietary platform, combines integrated technology solutions with custom workflows and templates. It is specifically designed to drive consistency and productivity, which lowers your costs while improving quality.

Comprehensive data capture

We capture comprehensive data throughout the duration of your matters to power business reporting and analysis that delivers the insight you need to optimize outcomes. Key information about your matters is always at your fingertips via our online portal.

Nationwide Firm

We're scaling our law firm so that we can seamlessly manage your work in nearly every state. With fewer firms to manage, you will have more time to focus on strategic legal and business needs.

Proven legal & business leadership

With vast experience in a wide variety of industries and situations, our team of legal and business executives brings a unique blend of knowledge and perspective that helps clients optimize their outcomes. Going beyond the traditional attorney-client relationship, we create a client-centric partnership that delivers long-term value.

Streamline. Automate. Simplify.

Today, companies are asking their law firms to deliver more value—from efficiency and cost containment to communication and insight—that helps improve business outcomes. Hickey Smith is engineered to deliver these benefits.

By streamlining legal processes, automating routine tasks, and simplifying matter management, attorneys can eliminate unnecessary hours and focus on proactively resolving your issues.
